Go up, up, and away on this poppy board. Strength, stability and pop were common notions our testers deployed when rating the Zephyr. Though Venture describes the overall flex of this year's model as being more limber, our riders still found it stiff in a good way. With the varied conditions each board was forced to endure, the Zephyr tackled it all with power.

"This long board requires an effort to initiate small, quick turns but it's very stable, can turn and hold an edge at speed with ease." —All

"Quick responder edge to edge. Loves to go fast too, but stable like a well engineered German auto." —Rebyn
